Terms and Conditions of Quotation, Delivery and Payment

1. Order
   1. The delivery period may be agreed as being binding or without commitment and shall be confirmed in writing.
   2. The Buyer shall be entitled to process or mix and sell the goods in the normal course of business. The processing, however, shall always be performed on our behalf. If the goods are produced by processing the goods delivered in respect of replacement or conversion of the goods by the Buyer shall always be performed on our behalf. If the goods are processed, the Buyer shall be obliged to report the assignment to the debtor of the assigned claim. The Buyer shall refrain from collection and retention of the goods.

2. Quotations
   1. An order shall be deemed to have been accepted if it is acknowledged by us in writing or the goods are delivered.
   2. The Buyer shall be entitled to exercise a right of retention insofar as there is an additional performance obligation. If the Buyer defaults on his payments, we shall be entitled to hold back deliveries not yet made. In such a case we may delay the delivery of the remaining items to the full extent of the Buyer’s breaches.

3. Price
   1. The prices as stated in the order acknowledgement shall be valid for a delivery period of up to four months; in the event of a delay in delivery of more than six weeks, both the Buyer and we shall be entitled to rescind the contract unilaterally. If delivery or service becomes impossible due to unforeseen hindrances which we are unable to influence, e.g. disruptions to operations, effects of action during labour disputes or similar, we reserve the right to bring legal action at the Buyer’s domicile.
   2. The Buyer shall be entitled to exercise a right of retention insofar as there is an additional performance obligation. If the Buyer defaults on his payments, we shall be entitled to hold back deliveries not yet made. In such a case we may delay the delivery of the remaining items to the full extent of the Buyer’s breaches.

4. Payment
   1. An order shall be deemed to have been accepted if it is acknowledged by us in writing or the goods are delivered.
   2. The Buyer shall be entitled to exercise a right of retention insofar as there is an additional performance obligation. If the Buyer defaults on his payments, we shall be entitled to hold back deliveries not yet made. In such a case we may delay the delivery of the remaining items to the full extent of the Buyer’s breaches.

5. Effect of payment
   1. The Buyer shall be entitled to exercise a right of retention insofar as there is an additional performance obligation. If the Buyer defaults on his payments, we shall be entitled to hold back deliveries not yet made. In such a case we may delay the delivery of the remaining items to the full extent of the Buyer’s breaches.

6. Reservation of title
   1. An order shall be deemed to have been accepted if it is acknowledged by us in writing or the goods are delivered.
   2. The Buyer shall be entitled to exercise a right of retention insofar as there is an additional performance obligation. If the Buyer defaults on his payments, we shall be entitled to hold back deliveries not yet made. In such a case we may delay the delivery of the remaining items to the full extent of the Buyer’s breaches.

7. Liability
   1. The Buyer shall be entitled to exercise a right of retention insofar as there is an additional performance obligation. If the Buyer defaults on his payments, we shall be entitled to hold back deliveries not yet made. In such a case we may delay the delivery of the remaining items to the full extent of the Buyer’s breaches.

8. Scope and performance of delivery; transfer of risk
   1. An order shall be deemed to have been accepted if it is acknowledged by us in writing or the goods are delivered.
   2. The Buyer shall be entitled to exercise a right of retention insofar as there is an additional performance obligation. If the Buyer defaults on his payments, we shall be entitled to hold back deliveries not yet made. In such a case we may delay the delivery of the remaining items to the full extent of the Buyer’s breaches.

9. Retention of title
   1. An order shall be deemed to have been accepted if it is acknowledged by us in writing or the goods are delivered.
   2. The Buyer shall be entitled to exercise a right of retention insofar as there is an additional performance obligation. If the Buyer defaults on his payments, we shall be entitled to hold back deliveries not yet made. In such a case we may delay the delivery of the remaining items to the full extent of the Buyer’s breaches.

10. Return and exchange
    1. An order shall be deemed to have been accepted if it is acknowledged by us in writing or the goods are delivered.
    2. The Buyer shall be entitled to exercise a right of retention insofar as there is an additional performance obligation.
